Findings:

General: Based on interviews and review of documentation during the investigation, the surveyor found that a staff member "swatted" a three-year-old child on the leg as a form of discipline. Furthermore, the staff member spoke in a loud and frustrated manner while in the classroom.

Per documentation presented for review, located in the staff member's personnel file, a meeting was held with the staff member and administrative staff on 3/8/2022, to discuss an allegation that the staff member had placed her hands on a three-year-old child in an inappropriate manner. The staff member admitted that she had "swatted his bottom". Additionally, it was noted the staff member used a raised voice to speak to the children. The meeting was documented on a disciplinary action form and signed by the staff member. Another document presented for review, described an incident that occurred on 11/3/2021, where the staff member yelled at the same child and grabbed him by the arm. This incident was also discussed with the staff member.
