Findings:

General: Based on Interview, on 04/02/18 a three-year-old child received a gash to his left eye after crawling underneath a table in a classroom. The child was taken to the doctor and the cut was glued shut. On 04/17/18 the same child had a shelving unit fall over on him in a different classroom, resulting in a bruise under his right eye and several of his fingers being smashed under the weight of the shelf. The child was taken to the emergency room where an xray was taken of his fingers which determined no broken bones just bruising. He was diagnosed with a mild concussion. The director failed to notify the Cabinet of either incident resulting in a visit to the doctor and emergency room.
